Lithuania's Easy-to-Read Recommendations — A Ministerial Order Requiring Target-Group Validation Before Public Bodies Use the Easy-to-Read Logo

Digital Inclusion · Good practice · Lithuania

Quality score: 48/100

Evidence strength: Moderate

Summary

Lithuanian order A1-784 (2023) tells state and municipal bodies how to give disabled people information in easy-to-read language, sign language and Braille; texts not checked by the target group can't carry the easy-to-read logo.

Key dimensions

Dimension	Score
Innovation level	2/5
Sustainability (ongoing)	1/1
Evaluation evidence	0/1
Demonstrated reach	0/1
Documented learning	1/1

Evaluated by C-NAPSE

Data sources

C-NAPSE web research — accessed 2026-11-15

Ministry of Social Security and Labour of Lithuania, with the Disability Rights Protection Agency (ANTA) and Kurk Lietuvai — accessed 2026-11-15

Order A1-784 and recommendations (municipal copy, PDF, Lithuanian) — accessed 2026-11-15

Kurk Lietuvai 2022 survey summary (PDF, Lithuanian) — accessed 2026-11-15

Innovation in Politics Awards 2023 finalist profile — accessed 2026-11-15

Cite this — Evidoria. Lithuania's Easy-to-Read Recommendations — A Ministerial Order Requiring Target-Group Validation Before Public Bodies Use the Easy-to-Read Logo. Persistent ID: c22f883a-a439-4846-aa55-09e9b04b438d.