

Desa Ramah Perempuan dan Peduli Anak (DRPPA) — Indonesia's Women- and Child-Friendly Village Programme

Gender Equality · Good practice · Indonesia

Quality score: 63/100

Evidence strength: Moderate

Summary

Indonesia's Ministry of Women's Empowerment certifies villages that embed gender and child-rights criteria into local governance; grown from 138 pilot villages (2020) to 1,967 by 2024, though independent case studies show uneven, mixed implementation on the ground.

Key dimensions

Dimension	Score
Transferability / replicability	2/3
Impact on gender equality	0/1
Effectiveness	0/1
Efficiency	0/1
Evaluated outcomes	1/1
Sustainability	1/1
Achievement / evidence	1/1
Gender-mainstreaming embedding	1/1
Curator validation	1/1

Evaluated by C-NAPSE

Data sources

C-NAPSE web research — accessed 2026-07-12

Kementerian Pemberdayaan Perempuan dan Perlindungan Anak \(Kemen PPPA\), with Kementerian Desa PDTT — accessed 2026-07-12

Kemen PPPA press release \(Aug 2024\) — accessed 2026-07-12

ANTARA News — UNICEF launches women, child-friendly villages in Southwest Papua — accessed 2026-07-12

Diponegoro University repository — DRPPA implementation case study, Purbalingga — accessed 2026-07-12

Cite this — Evidoria. Desa Ramah Perempuan dan Peduli Anak (DRPPA) — Indonesia's Women- and Child-Friendly Village Programme. Persistent ID: c19ee020-2256-448a-8030-7c9764bd19e7.