

Digital Family Card — Kazakhstan's Automatic, Data-Driven Safety Net for Vulnerable Families

Digital Inclusion · Good practice · Kazakhstan

Quality score: 96/100

Evidence strength: Strong

Summary

Kazakhstan's Ministry of Labor and Social Protection, with UNDP, built a scoring system covering 6M+ families across 120 wellbeing indicators, auto-enrolling disabled, single-parent and orphaned-child households in benefits with no application. Won the 2024 GovTech Prize.

Key dimensions

Dimension	Score
Innovation level	4/5
Sustainability (ongoing)	1/1
Evaluation evidence	1/1
Demonstrated reach	1/1
Documented learning	1/1

Evaluated by C-NAPSE

Data sources

C-NAPSE web research — accessed 2026-09-23

Ministry of Labor and Social Protection of the Population of Kazakhstan, with UNDP Kazakhstan — accessed 2026-09-23

UNDP Kazakhstan — Digital Family Card — accessed 2026-09-23

UNDP press release — 2024 GovTech Prize win — accessed 2026-09-23

The Astana Times — Digital Family Card wins 2024 GovTech Prize — accessed 2026-09-23

The Borgen Project — Digital Family Card in Kazakhstan — accessed 2026-09-23

Cite this — Evidoria. Digital Family Card — Kazakhstan's Automatic, Data-Driven Safety Net for Vulnerable Families. Persistent ID: 85b2155a-2b51-4f80-8efa-d3768c34fefc.