

Document Budget Genre — Senegal's Gender Budget Annex to the Finance Law

Gender Equality · Good practice · Senegal

Quality score: 37/100

Evidence strength: Cautionary / limited

Summary

Since 2016, Senegal has annexed a Gender Budget Document to its annual Finance Law, reporting each ministry's gender-relevant spending; in 2026 the programme expanded to train journalists, with UN Women, to interpret and report on the figures.

Key dimensions

Dimension	Score
Transferability / replicability	1/3
Impact on gender equality	0/1
Effectiveness	0/1
Efficiency	0/1
Evaluated outcomes	0/1
Sustainability	1/1
Achievement / evidence	1/1
Gender-mainstreaming embedding	1/1
Curator validation	0/1

Evaluated by C-NAPSE

Data sources

C-NAPSE web research — accessed 2026-09-21

Ministère des Finances et du Budget / Ministère de la Famille et des Solidarités, Senegal — accessed 2026-09-21

UN Women Africa — Senegal country page — accessed 2026-09-21

AllAfrica — 2026 gender-budget journalist training workshop, Saly — accessed 2026-09-21

AllAfrica — 2026 National Assembly session on gender-responsive budgeting — accessed 2026-09-21

Le Soleil — coverage of the National Assembly gender-budgeting session — accessed 2026-09-21

Cite this — Evidoria. Document Budget Genre — Senegal's Gender Budget Annex to the Finance Law. Persistent ID: 29bc27ae-6be9-4809-8c75-e0b805e68b56.