

Dominica's National Policy on Gender Equality

Gender Equality · Good practice · Dominica

Quality score: 48/100

Evidence strength: Moderate

Summary

In 2007 Dominica became the first English-speaking Caribbean country to approve a National Policy on Gender Equality, implemented ever since by its Bureau of Gender Affairs - though no independently verified outcome data yet tracks its impact on GBV or women's advancement.

Key dimensions

Dimension	Score
Transferability / replicability	1/3
Impact on gender equality	0/1
Effectiveness	0/1
Efficiency	0/1
Evaluated outcomes	0/1
Sustainability	1/1
Achievement / evidence	1/1
Gender-mainstreaming embedding	1/1
Curator validation	1/1

Evaluated by C-NAPSE

Data sources

C-NAPSE web research — accessed 2026-07-17

Bureau of Gender Affairs, Government of Dominica — accessed 2026-07-17

World Bank: Gender-Based Violence Country Profile - Dominica — accessed 2026-07-17

Bureau of Gender Affairs - Government of Dominica \(official site\) — accessed 2026-07-17

Cite this — Evidoria. Dominica's National Policy on Gender Equality. Persistent ID: dcb82f52-b6ea-4606-99d1-fc1e63b9a874.