

Gewaltschutzambulanz — Charité Berlin's Police-Report-Free Forensic Documentation Clinic

Gender Equality · Good practice · Germany

Quality score: 63/100

Evidence strength: Moderate

Summary

Since 2014, Charité's Gewaltschutzambulanz has given violence survivors free, court-admissible forensic documentation of injuries without a prior police report; ~13,000 people have used the Berlin clinic, and its model has been replicated in Bremen and other German cities.

Key dimensions

Dimension	Score
Transferability / replicability	2/3
Impact on gender equality	0/1
Effectiveness	0/1
Efficiency	0/1
Evaluated outcomes	1/1
Sustainability	1/1
Achievement / evidence	1/1
Gender-mainstreaming embedding	1/1
Curator validation	1/1

Evaluated by C-NAPSE

Data sources

C-NAPSE web research — accessed 2026-09-03

Charité – Universitätsmedizin Berlin — accessed 2026-09-03

Charité — Gewaltschutzambulanz \(English\) — accessed 2026-09-03

PMC — Males as victims of intimate partner violence: results from a clinical-forensic examination centre — accessed 2026-09-03

Ärzte Zeitung — Berlin expands help for victims of violence — accessed 2026-09-03

Cite this — Evidoria. Gewaltschutzambulanz — Charité Berlin's Police-Report-Free Forensic Documentation Clinic. Persistent ID: 672115df-0e0b-4a25-8dcc-e2812811b7ef.