

Lebanon's Law 293/2014 and 2020 Amendments — Domestic Violence Protection Orders, with Implementation Still Incomplete

Gender Equality · Good practice · Lebanon

Quality score: 52/100

Evidence strength: Moderate

Summary

Lebanon's first domestic-violence law (2014, drafted by KAFA) created protection orders and a specialised police division; 2020 amendments added economic violence and a victims' fund, but the police unit and fund were still pending.

Key dimensions

Dimension	Score
Transferability / replicability	2/3
Impact on gender equality	0/1
Effectiveness	0/1
Efficiency	0/1
Evaluated outcomes	0/1
Sustainability	1/1
Achievement / evidence	1/1
Gender-mainstreaming embedding	1/1
Curator validation	1/1

Evaluated by C-NAPSE

Data sources

C-NAPSE web research — accessed 2026-10-02

Lebanese Parliament; KAFA \(Enough Violence & Exploitation\) — accessed 2026-10-02

ICJ — Lebanon GBV guidance for criminal justice actors \(2020\) — accessed 2026-10-02

LCPS — Strengthening Protections — accessed 2026-10-02

Cite this — Evidoria. Lebanon's Law 293/2014 and 2020 Amendments — Domestic Violence Protection Orders, with Implementation Still Incomplete. Persistent ID: 00c6f74f-81fd-47b1-b88d-e82c10213f68.